Brown-Bag Lunch Discussion on the Future of Global Purdue

To celebrate International Education Week, Dr. Andy Gillespie, Associate Dean of International Programs, will host an informal, brown-bag lunch discussion on the future of Global Purdue. What initiatives are currently underway to internationalize Purdue? What might Purdue look like in 5 to 10 years? What differences in our educational programs are we likely to see? Please come and contribute to the dialogue. The brown-bag seminar is open to faculty, staff, and students interested in Purdue’s place in the world. Don’t forget your lunch!

Day: Friday, November 21st
Time: 12:00-1:30pm
Place: Stewart Center 204

International Education Week is an opportunity to celebrate the benefits of international education and exchange worldwide. This joint initiative of the U.S. Department of State and the U.S. Department of Education is an effort to promote programs that prepare Americans for a global environment and attract future leaders from abroad to study, learn, and exchange experiences in the United States.
